

The MATRIX-System
Form Adapting Support Technique

X-Grip XL

The Innovation

Saves a lot time, with little expenditure. The complex work piece is fixed between two jaws and champed - using only one tool. With this simple operation, results are achieved much faster.

Functional and Economical

With axially mobile pins, the jaws of the X-Grip can adapt to each individual work piece as needed. Product-specific jaws are no longer required.

Illustration: X-Grip XL with cast piece.

