

The MATRIX-System

Form Adapting Support Technique

X-Grip XL

The Innovation

Saves a lot of time, with little expenditure. The complex work piece is fixed between two jaws and clamped using only one tool. With this simple operation, results are achieved much faster.

Functional and Economical

With axially mobile pins, the jaws of the X-Grip can adapt to each individual work piece as needed. Product-specific jaws are no longer required.

Illustration: X-Grip XL with cast piece

